KEYSTONERS FAIL TO DO MUCH IN WESTERN PART

Subject of Local Option Entirely Avoided by Gibbony in His Talks on the Political Issues

MAKES DEAL WITH NATIONAL COMMITTEE?

With the consciousness of not having done much good for the Keystone ticket, Berry and Gibbony, candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor on that ticket, closed their western campaign Saturday night and departed for the east Sunday. At their meetings in Pittsburg and Allegheny county, Gibbony in parti ular attacked the Pittsburg Post which paper he accused of being controlled by Senator Penrose, although professedly Democratic and suppopting Grim for Governor. The Post retorts by boldly charging Gibqon ywith offering to bolt his colleague, Berry, on the Keystone ticket.

According to the Post Gibbony, after he had received the Keystone nomination for Lieutenant Governor, offered to desert that party, if the Democrats would place him on their ticket as the nominee for Lieutenant Governor with Senator Grim. These overtures, the Post alleges, were made by Gibbony and his Philadelphia friends, most of who will not touch Berry. When the deal could not be effected the Philadelphia following to a large extent "laid down." This is said to be the reason why thousands failed to register in Gibbony's stronghold in Philadelphia. These people would have supported Grim and Gibbony, but they will not vote for Berry and Gibbony, and ha e expressed their disgust with the movement by refusing to register.

During his entire sojourn in this end of the State Gibbony made no reference to his attitude on local option. He never once mentioned this plank in the Keystone party platfrom As he has gone on record many times against local option, Gibbony concluded that he would play a little politics and not mention the subject at all. He believed it would be very embarrassing to attcmpt to explain why he refused to allow his name to go before the Keystone party convention as a candidate for the Gubernatural nomination aftter a local option plank had ben adopted.

About all that Gibbony did in Washington and Allegheny counties was to pour forth a lot of filth about alleged conditions in Piladelphia that no newspaper could publish, neither would it conform with the postal laws prohibition the mailing of obscene literature.

Although former Senator Flinn of Pittsburg is accused of financing the Keystone party it is stated that the most of what funds they have thus far received have come from the Democratic National Campaign Committee. This support is said to have been given by the Democratic National Committee in exchange for the indorsement of Democratic Congressmen by the Keystone party in the various districts, which the Democrats hope to capture at the election this fall. It will be remembered that the bosses of the Keystone party did not give the followers of their cause in the respective districts a voice in the nomination of Congressmen and members of the Legislature, but put these nominations up to a committee in Philadelphia. It is alleged that Berry, being a Democrat, made the deal with the Democratic campaign committee to help them to win a larger contingent of Congressmen from Pennsylvania in exchange for a contribution to the Keystone campaign fund. This is said to be the reason the Democrats feel so sure of electing more Congressmen from Pennsylvania.

Although the Keystone people have industriously circulated the rumor that Grim, the Democratic candidate for Governer, is to be withdrawn because his party sees the futility of making further efforts in his behalf, nothing is further from the purpose of the Democratic nominee. Because of the three-cornered fight no Democratic candidate for Governor before or since Pattison's time has had so good a chance to win. The latter was first elected by just such a movement, the nomination of an independent who pulled enough Republican votes off the regular Republican candidate—Gen. Beaver—to elect Pattison, the Democratic candidate Should J. K. Tener, the Republican candidate, fail of election, Grim would undoubtedly be the winner. This contingency has been recognized by the sporting fraternity, and it is said that some heavy bets have been placed in Pittsburg and Philadelphia on the possibility of history repeating itself.

One of the amenities of the campaign is the spectacle of E. F. Acheson and Robt. K. Aiken stumping together for the Keystone ticket. Aiken is the man who, as the fusion candidate of the Democratic and Lincoln parties, gave Acheson such a chase in 1906 for Congress in the Twenty-fourth district. Aiken had both Lawrence and Beaver counties "sewed up" against Acheson, but the latter made frantic appeals to both the National and State campaign committees and got financial aid from both. It is stated that this money, which flooded Beaver county, turned the tide, and that county was carried by Acheson by something over 300 plurality. Now Aiken is stumping with Acheson against the Republican party, and he is the only one thus far to attack Governor Stuart. He has also made some vicious attacks upon the judiciary of the State, and poses as a reformer all along the line.

While the Berry people have been making the most noise in this section the Republicans have been sawing wood. Mr. Tener's friends are busy, and when the proper time comes expect to begin a concerted action that will help to increase the majority that will land him in the State executive chair November 8.

DISEASES KEEPING MORE CHILDREN OUT

Final Week of Second Month of School Being Finished and Reports Will Soon Be Completed.

This week is the last week of the second month of school. Better work has been done this month than was done last month owing to the cooler weather partly. The reports will soon be in.

This month there was more sickness than last, keeping more pupils out of school. At present according to Health Officer William Darby there are four cases of diphtheria, four of scarlet fever and one of measles. This is responsible for keeping many children out of school. There is also considerable typhoid fever and on Crest avenue near Twelfth street there are five cases. The total number in the town of typhoid fever is seven.

The number of pupils absent on account of contagious diseases during September was only five. This is exceedingly low, and there are few months when this record will be attained or even approached.

FAIRNESS ONE TRAIT

Rival Business Man Talks of Candidate Tener

WAS ALWAYS HONORABLE

John S. Eberman of the firm of Crawford and Eberman, bankers and brokers, with offices in the Magee building in Pittsburg, was cashier of the Bank of Charleroi when John K. Tener, the Republican candidate for Governor, was cashier of the First National Bank of Charleroi. Mr. Tener's bank was the established one of the town and Mr. Eberman's institution came in long afterward As a rival banker Mr. Eberman had many opportunities to observe Mr. Tener's business and banking methods. Referring to those mathods he said yesterday to a reporter of a Pittsburg newspaper:

"Remember I was not associated in the same bank with John K. Tener. I was connected with the rival bank, that came in to do business in the town in which Mr. Tener's bank was the old, established institution. The competition between the two banks was sharp and naturally would have brought out any tendency to unfairness, sharp practice and shady methods in Tener, had there been anything in his chartucter that would induce him to take that sort of advantage over a competitor.

"In all our relations Mr. Tener was always honorable and manly. His attitude towards us was broad minded and generous, and notwithstanding the intense rivalry he retained the respect of us, his competitors and of all who came in contact with him John K. Tener would not be guilty of acts to the detriment and harm of anybody. His character is exceedingly free from such taint.

"In relation to the charges made by a Philadelphia, Pa., newspaper, which virtually accusses him of lending his name to an alleged fraudulent scheme for the purpose of inducing the public—his own friends included—to make bad investments, I am sure that he would not be guilty of such an act. To all the oral agreements relating to the affair of the two banks—and such understandings are frequent—Mr. Tener adhered strictly. His word was regarded as good as a bond. I am not a politician, nor interested especially in politics, but I want justice to be done to Mr. Tener."

MANY EXHIBITS AT LAND SHOW

Pittsburg Land and Irrigation Exposition Formally Opened Monday

The National Land and Irrigation Exposition, popularly known as Pittsburg's Big Land Show opened its doors on Monday at the Duquesne Garden to one of the largest crowds ever seen at any indoor event in that city. Nearly 20,000 people paid admission to the Big Land Show on Monday and thousands were turned away. Space prevents a detailed description of the exhibits which are of a wide and varied nature and of more than ordinary interest. Among the larger exhibits noticeable are those of the U. S. Government, the States of California, Pennsylvania, Louisiana, Maryland and Colorado, while the railroad has gone to large expense in building their exhibit. The lecture hall is also a big drawing card and all day long the place was crowded with interested throngs who enjoyed the many lectures which are given hourly on the various subjects pertaining to the land and which are illustrated by steropticon views and moving pictures. The Pittsburg Land Show is one of the most interesting forms of amusement ever instituted and sure to draw big crowds during its progress. Ecxurisons on all roads running into Pittsburg are daily bringing crowds of Land Show visitors, while a great deal of local interest is being taken in the event.

BROWNSVILLE TROUBLED BY TOO MANY FERRIES

Two Companies Contesting for Supremacy

TWO STREETS CLOSED UP

South Brownsville Grants Rights to the Monongahela Railroad

Since the closing of the old wooden covered bridge at Brownsville there has been a continual squabble owing to the efforts of two rival ferry companies to establish service there. The South Brownsville council recently sold to the Monongahela railroad the rights of the only two streets to the river, and this necessitated the two ferries, one a line ferry and the other a steam ferry operated by Capt. Thomas Axton, securing landings elsewhere. The line ferry, composed of a company of Brownsville men, among which it is claimed are at least two of the South Brownsville council got first choice and secured a good spot for landing. Upon consent of Bourgess Winans Capt. Axton was allowed to construct a landing at the wharf. Now the council has prepared an ordinance, ready for the burgess' signature fixing the license for landing at the wharf at $500.

The burgess may refuse to sign the ordinance, whereupon it is expected that the council will pass it over his veto, as they did the one closing up the two streets to the river recently.

Wounded Man May Entirely Recover

Word From Hospital to Effect that Slav Who Was Shot Will Live

Word received from the Mercy Hospital at Pittsburg last night was to the effect that unless some unexpected complications set in, Mike Chipke, the Slavic miner, who was shot here Sunday morning for refusing to stop playing a mouth organ, will get well. Chipke does not seem to feel the bad effects of the wound to any great extent.

BRIGADE TO TAKE PART IN PARADE

Uniformed Organizations to Help Celebrate

PREPARING FOR BIG DAY

It is expected that the Charleroi Boys Brigade under a full quota of officers and in costume will participate in the fantastic parade to be held on Hallowe'en night in connection with the Hallowe'en celebration. The firemen's organization and possibly both organizations of the town may turn out also. The Charleroi Concert band and the Charleroi Italian band will in all probabilty furnish enlivening music for the occasion. Red fire will be furnished the paraders. Prizes are to be awarded for the most fantastic dresses and the most comically dressed, these prizes to be made known later. They will be worth while going after. Floats will be put in the parade, and the Protected Home Circle will have two of them. A number of autos will likely be in line.

Booster Week Stirs Things

Monongahela People Getting Results Through New Plan

Monongahela is having a Booster Week. A number of the merchants united in a publicity and advertising campaign, and special efforts were made to attract outside people to the town, which has proven eminently successful. The stores are being crowded with purchasers and the merchants entertain their patrons by giving them meals, horse feed, and tickets to the various electric theatres of the town. The Boooster Sales started last Saturday and will continue until next Saturday evening.

TOM LIKES THIS TOWN TOO WELL

Police Making Effort to Have Him Discontinue Residence Here

Tom Barclay, whose name is one of the most familar, on local police rolls, because of his desire to make Charleroi his abiding place, may be given a chance to occupy a place in jail. Yesterday Tom was given binding instructions to discontinue his residence in Charleroi and adopt some other abiding place. He affably agreed and went to Monessen, it is stated. The smoke and grim of that town was too much for him, and back he came. Later in the evening he got into trouble and it is said refused to be induced to go to the lockup with Officer Sam Woods. A charge will be probably be instituted against him to send him to jail.

Ignores Local Option

There is a third party espousing the ambitions of the disappointed, but what is the concealed bunco cannot make headway in Pennsylvania. If a temperance reform be the real inspiration, it is a contemptible swindle they play by keeping their fraudulent stock in the dark. They dare not come forth into the open, and allow the people to debate the pretense they secretly exploit.—Pittsburg Post.

How the Wind Blows

That Guffey or Berry was no possible show at election this fall all impartial observers who endeavor to make a correct survey of the political field are fully agreed. The only danger that exists is in the Congressional and Legislative districts. In order to show the readers of the Mail what others think of the situation the opinion of the Altoona Tribune, which has made an exhaustive survey of the situation, is herewith given. The Tribune says:

"The survey which the Tribune has taken of State politics during the laast few days confirms the former impression that the Republican State ticket will be elected by a decisive plurality. The recent onslaught of the North American upon John K Tener's business and personal integrity has not diverted from his support any citizens who were formerly his friends.

"The Democratic State ticket will be second in the number of votes received throughout the State. Encouraged by the prospects of success in many States which are before them and hoping that thousands of Republicans will bolt their party ticket, the Democratic rank and file in most counties of the State will vote the straight ticket. They will not elect it, but they will give it a very respectable vote.

"The Keystone ticket is strong in spots. It is strong in Lawrence and Beaver counties; it is stronger in Blair county now than it ought to be. But it is hopelessly weak in the largest counties and will come in a considerable distance behind the Democratic ticket when the votes are counted. The one thing the regular Democrats and the Democrats who are guiding the Keystone party's destiny are trying to do is to secure the election of as many Democratic Congressmen as possible. It is believed by the Democratic leaders that the combined Democratic and Keystone vote will be sufficient to turn the scale in several districts, thus helping to return a Democratic majority to the next House.

"Our readers will remember that the Keystone party leaders took pains to endorse no Republican Congressional candidate. They will also remember that the election of a Democratic House will make an end of the completion of the policies favored by President Taft. Much important legislation in the interest of the people was enacted at the last session; much remains to be done. It cannot be enacted at the short session. If it is not made law then it will be halted permanently in the event of a Democratic victory.

"The Keystone party is only dangerous now in the Congressional field. It will be dangerous in Blair county in 1911; and that is the objective point sought by its promoters."

It is up to the voters to decide whether or not they want an interruption of the progessive policies that are keeping the industries of the State going. A waiting period of two years at least is not conductive to new and progressive development, and is likely to entail a big curtailment of production and consequent business losses and idleness of labor.

Only a Roorback

The bringing of grave charges against a candidate for office on the eve of election is an old political game and no conscientious voter, who would not be willing to do a man a gross injustice, would accept an exaggerated newspaper statement, made with the obvious object of injuring a candidate, without the most convincing evidence of its truth. The reasonable assumption is that such charges made at such a time and under such circumstances, are unworthy of serious consideration.

It is an easy matter for an unfriendly newspaper writer to take a few facts, harmless in themselves, and by a little skillful distortion and exaggeration, make them appear very damaging to a man's character.

We have Mr. Tener's emphatic statement that the North American's charges are without foundation and we assume that the sense of justice of the average Republican voter would not permit him to take seriously the unsupported statement of a notoriously hostile newspaper.

By his neighbors who know him by intimate association in social and business life, Mr. Tener is regarded as a man of integrity, courage and ability, who will be a worthy successor to Governor Stuart, and it is not often that a man's neighbors are far wrong in their estimate of him.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

A Progressive Move

The preliminary organization of a mining institute by the mine superintendents, foremen and bosses of the Twenty-first bituminus district, with headquarters in Charleroi, is a movement that is cabable of far reaching results. If this institute is held regularly at stated periods, and attended by the mining experts who comprise the official boards of the big collieries of the district to discuss and exemplify practical problem in mining, all interests connected with the industry cannot help but be materially advanced. This would be particularly beneficiai if these meetings were open to every mine employe, no matter how humble, who might be ambitious to improve his condition.

Mining as an occupation offers some spendid opportunities to bright and intelligent boys who have the proper amount of energy and ambition. Any bright, alert boy who enters the mines in the most humble capacity has an assured future in his grasp if he will but take advantage of it. All that he has to do is to atuty intelligently the requirements of his occupation and put them into practical execution. The trapper boy who masters the intelligent direction of air courses and the theory of mine ventilation, and never fails in their execution to the best interests of the men and the safeguard of the corporate property, is sure to attract attention and to be advanced at the first opportunity. This opportunity is open to thousands of boys right in this district. There never was a time when intelligent and expert service was in greater demand in the mining industry, and the qualifications are within the reach of any one who goes persistently after them.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

The man who shot the Slovak because the latter wanted to play a mouth organ on Sunday would have been more of a benefactor to the human race, if he had shot some of these fellows who insist upon constantly running their phonographs.

One nice thing about that trip across the ocean of Water Weilman's air ship is that they would have to be troubled by the incessant blowing of the fog horn.

Fallowfield township holds the palm for raising big corn. Even Fallowfield can't be kept from the limelight.

The North American editor who has been so hasty about accusing John K. Tener of misconduct had better first satisfy himself upon his own reputation.

Gibbony howls about the press not giving accurate reports of his talks, and the Pittsburg Post comes back at him by saying that a newspaper can't repeat what he says without running the risk of being thrown out of the mails for publishing obscene matter.

It is very noticeable that while Mr. Tener is being denounced by a few because some individual falsely stated that he favored an open Sabbath, he does not campaign on Sunday, which that is Berry's and Gibbony's best day.

Fate never has a grouch at the contented man.

A strandpatter is one who comes to a stop and can't be started, and a progressive is one who gets a start and can't be stopped.

The Cry of the Age is "Back to the Farm"

With the best market in the world at his door, the intensive farmer located in the Monongahela valley is the wise man of his generation.

Every town has as much need of the small truck, fruit and poultry farms around it as it has for more factories. Such farms make living better and cheaper for the laboring man and more business for the merchant.

I have secured control of a large farm within five minutes walk of the borough limits and will, within the next six weeks, sell it out in small farms. I now have purchasers for about one-half of it and owing to the great demand for small farms near Charleroi expect to close all sales for these farms in a very short time.

A farm big enough for all the boys to work as a truck, poultry and fruit farm while the father works at the mill, can be bought for the price of a cheap town lot. Good country school nearby.

A farm big enough to require the whole time of one intensive farmer can be bought for $500.00. Read the Pittsburg papers about the great land show which will be held there within the next few weeks and learn what can be raised on a few acres of ground by the new methods of intensive farming.

Prompt Punishment of a Liar.

Years ago the courthouse in San Francisco fronted the old Plaza. A trial was in progress, and counsel for the defendant was cross examining the plaintiff. An earthquake shook the chandeliers and dislodged some of the ceiling. Judge, jurors, witnesses and spectators rushed for the door; but, finding that the seismic disturbance was over, they returned.

"You can proceed with the cross examination of the witness," said the judge.

"Pardon me, your honor," said counsel for the defendant, "but after the late exhibition of the displeasure of the Almighty at the lies this witness was telling I do not care to further invoke divine wrath. I will ask him no more questions."—Los Angeles Times.

Horses In the Time of Homer.

The horses used in Homer's time were war horses. The warriors were drawn in chariots. The art of riding was known, but it is alluded to as something unusual. Ulysses at the time of his shipwreck "bestrode a plank, like a horseman on a big steed." There are reasons for believing that the practice of riding was much later than that of driving, and the myth of the centaur, where, according to Shakespeare, "man is incorpsed and demi-natured with the beast," probably originated at an early period when the appearance of a man on horseback was a novel sight.

A Long Wait.

At a Denver hotel a woman went into one of the telephone booths and sat down. It is not possible to get a telephone number from the booth—the girl at the board has to call it. The girl went to the booth. "Did you want a telephone number?" she asked of the woman.

"No," replied the woman. "I'm just waiting for this elevator to go up."—Argonaut.

Very Considerate.

ARIZONA ROAD RUNNER.

A Sociable Bird That Is Said to Hate a Rattlesnake.

The road runner is one of Arizona's distinctive ornithological institutions. It is a long legged, long billed bird, slender of build and standing some ten inches high. It is not often seen in the farming districts, but is a familiar sight on the desert.

It has gained the name of road runner from its habit of taking the road in front of travelers be they on horseback or wheeled conveyance, and running swiftly or slowly, as occasion requires, showing off its neighborly spirit and running qualities. It is not uncommon for it to keep in company of the traveler for several hundred yards.

No resident of Arizona would kill a road runner. It is firmly believed that the bird is the deadly enemy of that monster of the desert, the rattlesnake. We don't know whether any of our readers ever saw a road runner kill a rattlesnake. If there is an authentic story of such a thing we would be glad to publish it. But the accepted tradition is that the road runner and the rattlesnake are deadly enemies and that the rattlesnake fears the road runner beyond anything else.

It is told that the bird drives the snake into a coil and then, darting around the serpent like lightning, pecks it to death. Whatever truth there may be in the stories of the road runner's accomplishments as a disciple of St. Patrick, it deserves the friendly protection it receives. Its quaint sociability is always a diversion for the lonesome desert traveler. —Arizona Republican

Linked Before and After.

Having entered the church at Regensburg, in Germany, for the purpose of being married and taken his place beside the bride, a man named Wahl, who seems to have been of a somewhat nervous disposition, suddenly rushed out of the building, took a cab to the station and jumped into a moving train. We have always maintained that the bridegroom should be handcuffed to the best man until the conclusion of the ceremony. It is foolish to take unnecessary risks.—London Globe.

Happiness.

"There is an instinct in the heart of man which makes him fear a cloudless happiness. It seems to him that he owes to misfortune a tithe of his life, and that which he does not pay bears interest, is amassed and largely swells a debt which sooner or later he must acquit."

MONEY MAKING WAS THE OBJECT

Vicious Assault Upon Mr. Tener—Was a Slick and Profitable Advertising Scheme

IT BROUGHT IN THE CASH

Then It Floundered and Fell Flat in the Face of Mr. Tener's Prompt and Sufficient Answer—Members of Old Parties Being Insulted.

John K. Tener, the Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, and whose election is absolutely certain, is just now being viciously assaulted by the "holier than thou" aggregation which regards public office as its own personal perquisite. The professional and perpetual place-hunters who have opened their mud batteries upon Mr. Tener are playing no new game. They are simply practicing at their vicious profession and it is really gratifying to realize that they are not making any more progress now than they made in former assaults upon regularly nominated candidates for public office. This hungry gang of political discontents, self-appointed and absolutely without organized authority, first attacked the regular Democratic candidate for Governor. By misrepresentation and false pretending they practically put the Democratic party in Pennsylvania out of business. They destroyed Webster Grim as a candidate and then to all intents and purposes they wrecked the Democratic organization. In their efforts to destroy and disorganize the Democracy they insulted every real Democrat in this Commonwealth. That fact gave them little or no concern. There are, however ,a small army of militant Democrats in Pennsylvania and naturally they resented the reckless way in which they were tramped into the mud by the self-appointed and self-constituted managers and candidates of the Berry and Gibbony stripe. These self-assigned agents of their own ambitions were encouraged by their destruction of the Democratic organization to assault the Republicans. They found the principles and the policies of the Republican party were without blemish and they determined upon an attack on Mr. Tener personally. The attack was carefully hatched. It was not only malicious but mendacious and it was timed to the minute so as to enable the Philadelphia organ of the discontents to make a big haul of money out of it. The agents of the unscrupulous organ were notified in advance of the assault and were advised to prepare for the contemplated rush. The whole state was flooded with papers at so much per paper and a liberal reward was gathered for the dastardly assault. The proposed sensation simply floundered and disappeared but the organ of the discontents had served its own purpose and had reaped the profit from its slanders and was satisfied. Mr. Tener has not suffered personally. The Republican party has not been wrecked as was intended, but the organ of the wreckers got the cash and that was the main and only purpose to be served. The whole affair was ridiculous and offensive. Forty-eight hours before it was sprung an open letter was addressed to United States Senator Boies Penrose, demanding that he withdraw Mr. Tener as a candidate for Governor or submit to an inhuman assault upon Mr. Tener personally. As Mr. Tener had been made the Republican candidate for Governor by a regular Republican convention in which representative Republicans from every section of the State had taken part Senator Penrose had no more power nor authority to even request the withdrawal of Mr. Tener than did any other member of the Republican organization in the State and the letter to him was purely and simply an advertising dodge which served its purpose fairly well and brought to those concerned the cash for their perfidy. The money-making assault was a downright insult to every Republican in Pennsylvania and every Republican in Pennsylvania will resent it at the polls next month. The very best evidence that the Republicans of Pennsylvania placed their nomination for Governor in proper hands when they gave it unanimously to Mr. Tener has been afforded by Mr. Tener's course since the money-making assault was sprung upon the people. Knowing himself and realizing that his record in his private and public affairs was above suspicion he refused to become panic-stricken. He examined the alleged charges against him carefully and thoughtfully and with the force of a strong, honest man he hurled the charges back upon the discontents and denounced them as deliberate and malicious falsehoods. At the first possible opportunity after the alleged sensation was sprung, and it was sprung only after being liberally advertised for profit, Mr. Tener issued the following statement which embraces the alleged charges in his answer:

"I have been advised of the nature of an attack made upon me as a candidate for the Republican party, in the North American. It is based upon my connection with the Public Utilities Corporation. It is a palpable attempt to besmirch my character and to question my integrity without the slightest justification, without a scintilla of fact upon which to base an intimation of wrongdoing upon my part. I brand the article as a deliberate endeavor to blacken my reputation, in an effort to promote the selfish and pecuniary interests of a mercenary and degenerate publication.

"The article is not intended to serve any public purpose. It is a slanderous screed. The preliminary exploitation and solicitation of sales of the paper emphasizes the character of the men responsible for it.

"My relations with this company were entirely straightforward and honorable in every respect. I became connected with this company in the ordinary course of business through W. L. Chrisman, a reputable attorney in Philadelphia, and now president of the company.

"There is absolutely nothing to conceal; nor is there anything that calls for an explanation of my actions in the matter. When I found I could not give the necessary time to the company I severed my connection with it absolutely, never having accepted any of its stock."

Mr. Tener accompanied his statement with a letter from the circulation department of the organ of the discontents urging its agents to order liberally and early so as to make the slander profitable. The organ of the discontents having been duly and liberally circulated as a campaign document and paid for by the people generally the slander seems to have served its prime purpose. In the meantime Mr. Berry, the candidate of the organ for Governor of Pennsylvania, and Mr. Gibbony, the organ's employe, one a Bryan Democrat and the other a disgruntled Republican, are going about the State abusing and insulting Republicans and Democrats alike, and begging members of both parties in whom they have absolutely no interest, to promote them to an exalted place in the State government on the ridiculous plea that they are more honest and better fitted than the other candidates. Berry and Gibbony have become common scolds and the people have become heartily tired of them. The people are also tired of their money-making campaign managers.

How to Look Pleasant.

By her gracious and cordial manner the wife of a western senator has long charmed those so fortunate as to attend her delightful "functions."

On one such occasion a close friend was alluding to the hostess' graceful method of making every one feel at home. "How on earth do you manage to do it?" the friend asked.

"Oh, it's easy enough," replied the woman with the engaging manner. "As each guest approaches to shake hands I just pretend to myself that the person I am going to speak to is some one I like."—Chicago Record-Herald.

KEYSTONERS FAIL TO DO MUCH IN WESTERN PART

Subject of Local Option Entirely Avoided by Gibbony in His Talks on the Political Issues

MAKES DEAL WITH NATIONAL COMMITTEE?

With the consciousness of not having done much good for the Keystone ticket, Berry and Gibbony, candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor on that ticket, closed their western campaign Saturday night and departed for the east Sunday. At their meetings in Pittsburg and Allegheny county, Gibbony in parti ular attacked the Pittsburg Post which paper he accused of being controlled by Senator Penrose, although professedly Democratic and suppopting Grim for Governor. The Post retorts by boldly charging Gibbon ywith offering to bolt his colleague, Berry, on the Keystone ticket.

According to the Post Gibbony, after he had received the Keystone nomination for Lieutenant Governor, offered to desert that party, if the Democrats would place him on their ticket as the nominee for Lieutenant Governor with Senator Grim. These overtures, the Post alleges, were made by Gibbony and his Philadelphia friends, most of who will not touch Berry. When the deal could not be effected the Philadelphia following to a large extent "laid down." This is said to be the reason why thousands failed to register in Gibbony's stronghold in Philadelphia. These people would have supported Grim and Gibbony, but they will not vote for Berry and Gibbony, and have expressed their disgust with the movement by refusing to register.

During his entire sojourn in this end of the State Gibbony made no reference to his attitude on local option. He never once mentioned this plank in the Keystone party platform As he has gone on record many times against local option, Gibbony concluded that he would play a little politics and not mention the subject at all. He believed it would be very embarrassing to attempt to explain why he refused to allow his name to go before the Keystone party convention as a candidate for the Gubernatoral nomination aftter a local option plank had ben adopted.

About all that Gibbony did in Washington and Allegheny counties was to pour forth a lot of filth about alleged conditions in Piladelphia that no newspaper could publish, neither would it conform with the postal laws prohibition the mailing of obscene literature.

Although former Senator Flinn of Pittsburg is accused of financing the Keystone party it is stated that the most of what funds they have thus far received have come from the Democratic National Campaign Committee. This support is said to have been given by the Democratic National Committee in exchange for the indorsement of Democratic Congressmen by the Keystone party in the various districts, which the Democrats hope to capture at the election this fall. It will be remembered that the bosses of the Keystone party did not give the followers of their cause in the respective districts a voice in the nomination of Congressmen and members of the Legislature, but put these nominations up to a committee in Philadelphia. It is alleged that Berry, being a Democrat, made the deal with the Democratic campaign committee to help them to win a larger contingent of Congressmen from Pennsylvania in exchange for a contribution to the Keystone campaign fund. This is said to be the reason the Democrats feel so sure of electing more Congressmen from Pennsylvania.

Although the Keystone people have industriously circulated the rumor that Grim, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is to be withdrawn because his party sees the futility of making further efforts in his behalf, nothing is further from the purpose of the Democratic nominee. Because of the three-cornered fight no Democratic candidate for Governor before or since Pattison's time has had so good a chance to win. The latter was first elected by just such a movement, the nomination of an independent who pulled enough Republican votes off the regular Republican candidate—Gen. Beaver—to elect Pattison, the Democratic candidate Should J. K. Tener, the Republican candidate, fail of election, Grim would undoubtedly be the winner. This contingency has been recognized by the sporting fraternity, and it is said that some heavy bets have been placed in Pittsburg and Philadelphia on the possibility of history repeating itself.

One of the amenities of the campaign is the spectacle of E. F. Acheson and Robt. K. Aiken stumping together for the Keystone ticket. Aiken is the man who, as the fusion candidate of the Democratic and Lincoln parties, gave Acheson such a chase in 1906 for Congress in the Twenty-fourth district. Aiken had both Lawrence and Beaver counties "sewed up" against Acheson, but the latter made frantic appeals to both the National and State campaign committees and got financial aid from both. It is stated that this money, which flooded Beaver county, turned the tide, and that county was carried by Acheson by something over 300 plurality. Now Aiken is stumping with Acheson against the Republican party, and he is the only one thus far to attack Governor Stuart. He has also made some vicious attacks upon the judiciary of the State, and poses as a reformer all along the line.

While the Berry people have been making the most noise in this section the Republicans have been sawing wood. Mr. Tener's friends are busy, and when the proper time comes expect to begin a concerted action that will help to increase the majority that will land him in the State executive chair November 8.

DISEASES KEEPING MORE CHILDREN OUT

Final Week of Second Month of School Being Finished and Reports Will Soon Be Completed.

This week is the last week of the second month of school. Better work has been done this month than was done last month owing to the cooler weather partly. The reports will soon be in.

This month there was more sickness than last, keeping more pupils out of school. At present according to Health Officer William Darby there are four cases of diphtheria, four of scarlet fever and one of measles. This is responsible for keeping many children out of school. There is also considerable typhoid fever and on Crest avenue near Twelfth street there are five cases. The total number in the town of typhoid fever is seven.

The number of pupils absent on account of contagious diseases during September was only five. This is exceedingly low, and there are few months when this record will be attained or even approached.

FAIRNESS ONE TRAIT

John S. Eberman of the firm of Crawford and Eberman, bankers and brokers, with offices in the Mage building in Pittsburg, was cashier of the Bank of Charleroi when John K. Tener, the Republican candidate for Governor, was cashier of the First National Bank of Charleroi. Mr. Tener's bank was the established one of the town and Mr. Eberman's institution came in long afterward As a rival banker Mr. Eberman had many opportunities to observe Mr. Tener's business and banking methods. Referring to those mathods he said yesterday to a reporter of a Pittsburg newspaper:

"Remember I was not associated in the same bank with John K. Tener. I was connected with the rival bank, that came in to do business in the town in which Mr. Tener's bank was the old, established institution. The competition between the two banks was sharp and naturally would have brought out any tendency to unfairness, sharp practice and shady methods in Tener, had there been anything in his chartacter that would induce him to take that sort of advantage over a competitor.

"In all our relations Mr. Tener was always honorable and manly. His attitude towards us was broad minded and generous, and notwithstanding the intense rivalry he retained the respect of us, his competitors and of all who came in contact with him. Joan K. Tener would not be guilty of acts to the detriment and harm of anybody. His character is exceedingly free from such taint.

"In relation to the charges made by a Philadelphia, Pa., newspaper, which virtually accusses him of lending his name to an alleged fraudulent scheme for the purpose of inducing the public—his own friends included—to make bad investments, I am sure that he would not be guilty of such an act. To all the oral agreements relating to the affair of the two banks—and such understandings are frequent—Mr. Tener adhered strictly. His word was regarded as good as a bond. I am not a politician, nor interested especially in politics, but I want justice to be done to Mr. Tener."

MANY EXHIBITS AT LAND SHOW

Pittsburg Land and Irrigation Exposition Formally Opened Monday

The National Land and Irrigation Exposition, popularly known as Pittsburg's Big Land Show opened its doors on Monday at the Duquesne Garden to one of the largest crowds ever seen at any indoor event in that city. Nearly 20,000 people paid admission to the Big Land Show on Monday and thousands were turned away. Space prevents a detailed description of the exhibits which are of a wide and varied nature and of more than ordinary interest. Among the larger exhibits noticeable are those of the U. S. Government, the States of California, Pennsylvania, Louisiana, Maryland and Colorado, while the railroad has gone to large expense in building their exhibit. The lecture hall is also a big drawing card and all day long the place was crowded with interested throngs who enjoyed the many lectures which are given hourly on the various subjects pertaining to the land and which are illustrated by steropticon views and moving pictures. The Pittsburg Land Show is one of the most interesting forms of amusement ever instituted and sure to draw big crowds during its progress. Ecxurisons on all roads running into Pittsburg are daily bringing crowds of Land Show visitors, while a great deal of local interest is being taken in the event.

BROWNSVILLE TROUBLED BY TOO MANY FERRIES

Two Companies Contesting for Supremacy

TWO STREETS CLOSED UP

South Brownsville Grants Rights to the Monongahela Railroad

Since the closing of the old wooden covered bridge at Brownsville there has been a continual squabble owing to the efforts of two rival ferry companies to establish service there. The South Brownsville council recently sold to the Monongahela railroad the rights of the only two streets to the river, and this necessitated the two ferries, one a line ferry and the other a steam ferry operated by Capt. Thomas Axton, securing landings elsewhere. The line ferry, composed of a company of Brownsville men, among which it is claimed are at least two of the South Brownsville council got first choice and secured a good spot for landing. Upon consent of Bourgess Winans Capt. Axton was allowed to construct a landing at the wharf. Now the council has prepared an ordinance, ready for the burgess' signature fixing the license for landing at the wharf at $500.

The burgess may refuse to sign the ordinance, whereupon it is expected that the council will pass it over his veto, as they did the one closing up the two streets to the river recently.

Wounded Man May Entirely Recover

Word From Hospital to Effect that Slav Who Was Shot Will Live

Word received from the Mercy Hospital at Pittsburg last night was to the effect that unless some unexpected complications set in, Mike Chipke, the Slavic miner, who was shot here Sunday morning for refusing to stop playing a mouth organ, will get well. Chipke does not seem to feel the bad effects of the wound to any great extent.

BRIGADE TO TAKE PART IN PARADE

PREPARING FOR BIG DAY

It is expected that the Charleroi Boys Brigade under a full quota of officers and in costume will participate in the fantastic parade to be held on Hallowe'en night in connection with the Hallowe'en celebration. The firemen's organization and possibly both organizations of the town may turn out also. The Charleroi Concert band and the Charleroi Italian band will in all probabilty furnish enlivening music for the occasion. Red fire will be furnished the paraders. Prizes are to be awarded for the most fantastic dresses and the most comically dressed, these prizes to be made known later. They will be worth while going after. Floats will be put in the parade, and the Protected Home Circle will have two of them. A number of autos will likely be in line.

Booster Week Stirs Things

Monongahela People Getting Results Through New Plan

Monongahela is having a Booster Week. A number of the merchants united in a publicity and advertising campaign, and special efforts were made to attract outside people to the town, which has proven eminently successful. The stores are being crowded with purchasers and the merchants entertain their patrons by giving them meals, horse feed, and tickets to the various electric theatres of the town. The Boooster Sales started last Saturday and will continue until next Saturday evening.

TOM LIKES THIS TOWN TOO WELL

Police Making Effort to Have Him Discontinue Residence Here

Tom Barclay, whose name is one of the most familar, on local police rolls, because of his desire to make Charleroi his abiding place, may be given a chance to occupy a place in jail. Yesterday Tom was given binding instructions to discontinue his residence in Charleroi and adopt some other abiding place. He affably agreed and went to Monessen, it is stated. The smoke and grim of that town was too much for him, and back he came. Later in the evening he got into trouble and it is said refused to be induced to go to the lockup with Officer Sam Woods. A charge will be probably be instituted against him to send him to jail.

Ignores Local Option

There is a third party espousing the ambitions of the disappointed, but what is the concealed bunco cannot make headway in Pennsylvania. If a temperance reform be the real inspiration, it is a contemptible swindle they play by keeping their fraudulent stock in the dark. They dare not come forth into the open, and allow the people to debate the pretense they secretly exploit.—Pittsburg Post.

How the Wind Blows

That Guffey or Berry was no possible show of election this fall all impartial observers who endeavor to make a correct survey of the political field are fully agreed. The only danger that exists is in the Congressional and Legislative districts. In order to show the readers of the Mail what others think of the situation the opinion of the Altoona Tribune, which has made an exhaustive survey of the situation, is herewith given. The Tribune says:

"The survey which the Tribune has taken of State politics during the last few days confirms the former impression that the Republican State ticket will be elected by a decisive plurality. The recent onslaught of the North American upon John K. Tener's business and personal integrity has not diverted from his support any citizens who were formerly his friends.

"The Democratic State ticket will be second in the number of votes received throughout the State. Encouraged by the prospects of success in many States which are before them and hoping that thousands of Republicans will bolt their party ticket, the Democratic rank and file in most counties of the State will vote the straight ticket. They will not elect it, but they will give it a very respectable vote.

"The Keystone ticket is strong in spots. It is strong in Lawrence and Beaver counties; it is stronger in Blair county now than it ought to be. But it is hopelessly weak in the largest counties and will come in a considerable distance behind the Democratic ticket when the votes are counted. The one thing the regular Democrats and the Democrats who are guiding the Keystone party's destiny are trying to do is to secure the election of as many Democratic Congressmen as possible. It is believed by the Democratic leaders that the combined Democratic and Keystone vote will be sufficient to turn the scale in several districts, thus helping to return a Democratic majority to the next House.

"Our readers will remember that the Keystone party leaders took pains to endorse no Republican Congressional candidate. They will also remember that the election of a Democratic House will make an end of the completion of the policies favored by President Taft. Much important legislation in the interest of the people was enacted at the last session; much remains to be done. It cannot be enacted at the short session. If it is not made law then it will be halted permanently in the event of a Democratic victory.

"The Keystone party is only dangerous now in the Congressional field. It will be dangerous in Blair county in 1911; and that is the objective point sought by its promoters."

It is up to the voters to decide whether or not they want an interruption of the progessive policies that are keeping the industries of the State going. A waiting period of two years at least is not conductive to new and progressive development, and is likely to entail a big curtailment of production and consequent business losses and idleness of labor.

Only a Roorback

The bringing of grave charges against a candidate for office on the eve of election is an old political game and no conscientious voter, who would not be willing to do a man a gross injustice, would accept an exaggerated newspaper statement, made with the obvious object of injuring a candidate, without the most convincing evidence of its truth. The reasonable assumption is that such charges made at such a time and under such circumstances, are unworthy of serious consideration.

It is an easy matter for an unfriendly newspaper writer to take a few facts, harmless in themselves, and by a little skillful distortion and exaggeration, make them appear very damaging to a man's character.

We have Mr. Tener's emphatic statement that the North American's charges are without foundation and we assume that the sense of justice of the average Republican voter would not permit him to take seriously the unsupported statement of a notoriously hostile newspaper.

By his neighbors who know him by intimate association in social and business life, Mr. Tener is regarded as a man of integrity, courage and ability, who will be a worthy successor to Governor Stuart, and it is not often that a man's neighbors are far wrong in their estimate of him.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

A Progressive Move

The preliminary organization of a mining institute by the mine superintendents, foremen and bosses of the Twenty-first bituminus district, with headquarters in Charleroi, is a movement that is cabable of far reaching results. If this institute is held regularly at stated periods, and attended by the mining experts who comprise the official boards of the big collieries of the district to discuss and exemplify practical problem in mining, all interests connected with the industry cannot help but be materially advanced. This would be particularly beneficial if these meetings were open to every mine employe, no matter how humble, who might be ambitious to improve his condition.

Mining as an occupation offers some spendid opportunities to bright and intelligent boys who have the proper amount of energy and ambition. Any bright, alert boy who enters the mines in the most humble capacity has an assured future in his grasp if he will but take advantage of it. All that he has to do is to stuty intelligently the requirements of his occupation and put them into practical execution. The trapper boy who masters the intelligent direction of air courses and the theory of mine ventilation, and never fails in their execution to the best interests of the men and the safeguard of the corporate property, is sure to attract attention and to be advanced at the first opportunity. This opportunity is open to thousands of boys right in this district. There never was a time when intelligent and expert service was in greater demand in the mining industry, and the qualifications are within the reach of any one who goes persistently after them.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

The man who shot the Slovak because the latter wanted to play a mouth organ on Sunday would have been more of a benefactor to the human race, if he had shot some of these fellows who insist upon constantly running their phonographs.

One nice thing about that trip across the ocean of Water Wellman's air ship is that they would have to be troubled by the incessant blowing of the fog horn.

Fallowfield township holds the palm for raising big corn. Even Fallowfield can't be kept from the limelight.

The North American editor who has been so hasty about accusing John K. Tener of misconduct had better first satisfy himself upon his own reputation.

Gibbony howls about the press not giving accurate reports of his talks, and the Pittsburg Post comes back at him by saying that a newspaper can't repeat what he says without running the risk of being thrown out of the mails for publishing obscene matter.

It is very noticeable that while Mr. Tener is being denounced by a few because some individual falsely stated that he favored an open Sabbath, he does not campaign on Sunday, which that is Berry's and Gibbony's best day.

Fate never has a grouch at the contented man.

A strandpatter is one who comes to a stop and can't be started, and a progressive is one who gets a start and can't be stopped.

The Cry of the Age is "Back to the Farm"

With the best market in the world at his door, the intensive farmer located in the Monongahela valley is the wise man of his generation.

Every town has as much need of the small truck, fruit and poultry farms around it as it has for more factories. Such farms make living better and cheaper for the laboring man and more business for the merchant.

I have secured control of a large farm within five minutes walk of the borough limits and will, within the next six weeks, sell it out in small farms. I now have purchasers for about one-half of it and owing to the great demand for small farms near Charleroi expect to close all sales for these farms in a very short time.

A farm big enough for all the boys to work as a truck, poultry and fruit farm while the father works at the mill, can be bought for the price of a cheap town lot. Good country school nearby.

A farm big enough to require the whole time of one intensive farmer can be bought for $500.00. Read the Pittsburg papers about the great land show which will be held there within the next few weeks and learn what can be raised on a few acres of ground by the new methods of intensive farming.

Call at the office of Charles O. Frye, 511 Washington Avenue, and get full particulars.

Hitting of Outfield Attracts Attention of Brooklyn Nationals

The Brooklyn Eagle in speaking of the work of Robert J. Coulson who played ball last season with Altoona, but who has been drafted by Brooklyn says:

"This has been the best season for some time for trying out new players. Stark, Burke, Coulson and Miller have received a good seasoning and it will not take much next spring to find out their real worth. Of the quartet, Coulson is in the limelight at the present time. He has been hitting the ball hard, and during the past week in eight games made ten hits including several for extra bases. He has wonderful speed on the bases, and with a little more experience should be a valuable base stealer. He has about the best throwing arm seen at Washintgon Park in many a day, and a base runner has to be very speedy to go from first to third on a single to right field.

Prompt Punishment of a Liar.

Years ago the courthouse in San Francisco fronted the old Plaza. A trial was in progress, and counsel for the defendant was cross examining the plaintiff. An earthquake shook the chandeliers and dislodged some of the ceiling. Judge, jurors, witnesses and spectators rushed for the door, but, finding that the seismic disturbance was over, they returned.

"You can proceed with the cross examination of the witness," said the judge.

"Pardon me, your honor," said counsel for the defendant, "but after the late exhibition of the displeasure of the Almighty at the lies this witness was telling I do not care to further invoke divine wrath. I will ask him no more questions."—Los Angeles Times.

Horses In the Time of Homer.

The horses used in Homer's time were war horses. The warriors were drawn in chariots. The art of riding was known, but it is alluded to as something unusual. Ulysses at the time of his shipwreck "bestrode a plank, like a horseman on a big steed." There are reasons for believing that the practice of riding was much later than that of driving, and the myth of the centaur, where, according to Shakespeare, "man is incorpsed and demi-natured with the beast," probably originated at an early period when the appearance of a man on horseback was a novel sight.

A Long Wait.

At a Denver hotel a woman went into one of the telephone booths and sat down. It is not possible to get a telephone number from the booth—the girl at the board has to call it. The girl went to the booth. "Did you want a telephone number?" she asked of the woman.

"No," replied the woman. "I'm just waiting for this elevator to go up."—Argonaut.

MONEY MAKING WAS THE OBJECT

icious Assault Upon Mr. Tener Was a Slick and Profitable Advertising Scheme

hen It Floundered and Fell Flat in the Face of Mr. Tener's Prompt and Sufficient Answer—Members of Old Parties Being Insulted.

John K Tener, the Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania, nd whose election is absolutely certain, is just now being viciously assaulted by the 'holier than thou" aggregation which regards public office s its own personal perquisite. The rofessional and perpetual place-hunters who have opened their mud batteries upon Mr. Tener are playing no ew game They are simply practicng at their vicious profession and it s really gratifying to realize that they re not making any more progress ow than they made in former assaults upon regularly nominated candidates for public office This hungry ang of political discontents, self appointed and absolutely without organized authority first attacked the egular Democratic candidate for Govrnor. By misrepresentation and false retending they practically put the Democratic party in Pennsylvania out f business. They destroyed Webster Grim as a candidate and then to all ntents and purposes they wrecked the Democratic organization In their efforts to destroy and disorganize the Democracy they insulted every real Democrat in this Commonwealth. That act gave them little or no concern There are, however ,a small army of militant Democrats in Pennsylvania and naturally they resented the reckless way in which they were tramped into the mud by the self-appointed and self-constituted managers and candidates of the Berry and Gibbony stripe. These self-assigned agents of their own ambitions were encouraged by their destruction of the Democratic organization to assault the Republicans. They found the principles and the policies of the Republican party were without blemish and they determined upon an attack on Mr Tener personally. The attack was carefully hatched. It was not only malicious but mendacious and it was timed to the minute so as to enable the Philadelphia organ of the discontents to make a big haul of money out of it. The agents of the unscrupulous organ were notified in advance of the assault and were advised to prepare for the contemplated rush. The whole state was flooded with papers at so much per paper and a liberal reward was gathered for the dastardly assault The proposed sensation simply floundered and disappeared but the organ of the discontents had served its own purpose and had reaped the profit from its slanders and was satisfied Mr Tener has not suffered personally The Republican party has not been wrecked as was intended but the organ of the wreckers got the cash and that was the main and only purpose to be served The whole affair was ridiculous and offensive Forty-eight hours before it was sprung an open letter was addressed to United States Senator Boies Penrose, demanding that he withdraw Mr Tener as a candidate for Governor or submit to an inhuman assault upon Mr Tener personally As Mr Tener had been made the Republican candidate for Governor by a regular Republican convention in which representative Republicans from every section of the State had taken part Senator Penrose had no more power nor authority to even request the withdrawal of Mr. Tener than did any other member of the Republican organization in the State and the letter to him was purely and simply an advertising dodge which served its purpose fairly well and brought to those concerned the cash for their perfidy The money-making assault was a downright insult to every Republican in Pennsylvania and every Republican in Pennsylvania will resent it at the polls next month The very best evidence that the Republicans of Pennsylvania placed their nomination for Governor in proper hands when they gave it unanimously to Mr. Tener has been afforded by Mr Tener's course since the money-making assault was sprung upon the people Knowing himself and realizing that his record in his private and public affairs was above suspicion he refused to become panic-stricken He examined the alleged charges against him carefully and thoughtfully and with the force of a strong honest man he hurled the charges back upon the discontents and denounced them as deliberate and malicious falsehoods. At the first possible opportunity after the alleged sensation was sprung, and it was sprung only after being liberally advertised for profit Mr Tener issued the following statement which embraces the alleged charges in his answer

"I have been advised of the nature of an attack made upon me as a candidate for the Republican party. In the North American. It is based upon my connection with the Public Utilities Corporation. It is a palpable attempt to besmirch my character and to question my integrity without the slightest justification, without a scintilla of fact upon which to base an intimation of wrongdoing upon my part. I brand the article as a deliberate endeavor to blacken my reputation, in an effort to promote the selfish and pecuniary interests of a mercenary and degenerate publication.

"The article is not intended to serve any public purpose It is a slanderous screed. The preliminary exploitation and solicitation of sales of the paper emphasizes the character of the men responsible for it

"My relations with this company were entirely straightforward and honorable in every respect I became connected with the company in the ordinary course of business through W L. Chrisman a former friend in Philadelphia and now president of the company

"There is absolutely nothing to conceal; nor is there anything that calls for an explanation of my actions in the matter When I found I could not give the necessary time to the company I severed my connection with it absolutely never having accepted any of its stock"

Mr Tener accompanied his statement with a letter from the circulation department of the organ of the discontents urging its agents to order liberally and early so as to make the slander profitable. The organ of the discontents having been duly and liberally circulated as a campaign document and paid for by the people generally the slander seems to have served its prime purpose In the meantime Mr Berry, the candidate of the organ for Governor of Pennsylvania and Mr Gibbony, the organ's employe one a Bryan Democrat and the other a disgruntled Republican are going about the State abusing and insulting Republicans and Democrats alike, and begging members of both parties in whom they have absolutely no interest to promote them to an exalted place in the State government on the ridiculous plea that they are more honest and better fitted than the other candidates Berry and Gibbony have become common scolds and the people have become heartily tired of them The people are also tired of their money-making campaign managers.

How to Look Pleasant.

By her gracious and cordial manner the wife of a western senator has long charmed those so fortunate as to attend her delightful "functions."

On one such occasion a close friend was alluding to the hostess' graceful method of making every one feel at home. "How on earth do you manage to do it?" the friend asked.

"Oh, it's easy enough," replied the woman with the engaging manner "As each guest approaches to shake hands I just pretend to myself that the person I am going to speak to is some one I like."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Up the Rhine.

Mrs. Robinson—And were you up the Rhine? Miss Nurich (just returned from a European trip)—I should think so, right to the very top. What a splendid view there is from the summit!

Duty and today are ours; results and futurity belong to God.—Horace Greeley.

ARIZONA ROAD RUNNER.

A Sociable Bird That Is Said to Hate a Rattlesnake

The road runner is one of Arizona's distinctive ornithological institutions. It is a long legged long billed bird, slender of build and standing some 12 inches high It is not often seen in the farming districts but is a familiar sight on the desert

It has gained the name of road runner from its habit of taking the road in front of travelers be they on horseback or wheeled conveyance and running swiftly or slowly, as occasion requires, showing off its neighborly spirit and running qualities. It is not uncommon for it to keep in company of the traveler for several hundred yards

No resident of Arizona would kill a road runner It is firmly believed that the bird is the deadly enemy of that monster of the desert, the rattlesnake We don't know whether any of our readers ever saw a road runner kill a rattlesnake If there is an authentic story of such a thing we would be glad to publish it But the accepted tradition is that the road runner and the rattlesnake are deadly enemies and that the rattlesnake fears the road runner beyond anything else

It is told that the bird drives the snake into a coil and then, darting around the serpent like lightning, pecks it to death Whatever truth there may be in the stories of the road runner's accomplishments as a disciple of St Patrick it deserves the friendly protection it receives Its quaint sociability is always a diversion for the lonesome desert traveler. —Arizona Republican

Linked Before and After.

Having entered the church at Regensburg, in Germany, for the purpose of being married and taken his place beside the bride, a man named Wahl, who seems to have been of a somewhat nervous disposition, suddenly rushed out of the building, took a cab to the station and jumped into a moving train We have always maintained that the bridegroom should be handcuffed to the best man until the conclusion of the ceremony It is foolish to take unnecessary risks—London Globe.

Happiness.

"There is an instinct in the heart of man which makes him fear a cloudless happiness It seems to him that he owes to misfortune a tithe of his life, and that which he does not pay bears interest is increased and largely swells a debt which sooner or later he must acquit.
